You don't see the chaos of data and organisation in between

Federative Network of the Platforms could be the Solution

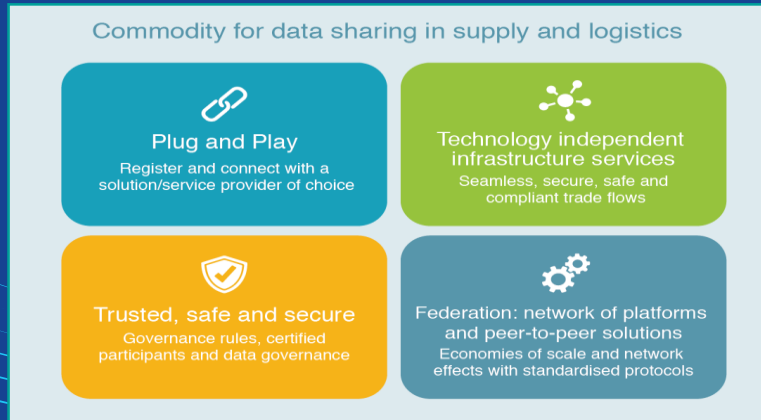

Digital corridor information systems concept

Creation of a federative network of platforms for data sharing with two main features:

- one single entry point for organisations (business and authorities)
- platform interoperability

Design principles:

- Register and connect once
- Interoperability by default
- Open infrastructure with a solution of choice
- Trust and security
- Scope: B2A and B2B
- Transparency and level playing field
- Re-use of existing standards
- Technology independent
- No centralised solution
